1. yes nursing is a profession its have its own theory, clinical guidelines and evidence based practice
2. No respect for Nurses in general, we are being treated as a house maids, people have wrong

image about nurses and their job, even the doctors have wrong believes they think we cant understand anything and we do not have the right to share the patient care with them, when i studied nursing her in UAE, i was so proud of myself, but when i work i felt it is a wrong decision what i studied.n

3. Nursing profession is universe care who need& indeed

4. nursing profession is good and it gives us great satisfaction through caring and guiding the patients or people.i love the profession because it gives me great value in the family and society
